LAURA

I'm naturally pale and sometimes it makes me really uncomfortable because I've got some mates who skit me for being paler than them.

But at the end of the day, I don't mind being paler because I'm not the one burning myself on the sun beds!

I don't know why some people go so far out of their way to be tanned when being natural like Nicola Roberts or Niall Horan is so much better, cheaper and much less hassle!

TOM

Why might it be difficult for Laura and Tom to embrace their naturally paler skin tones?
